VIRGINIA NEWS

A hydroplane on a maiden trip from an aerial station on Long Island, N. Y., en route to Langley Field, Newport News, came down in Gargatha Inlet, between the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay, Thursday night. The machine was in charge of G. C. Robinson, of Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y., and E. H. Baddard, of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y. It is supposed something went wrong with the engine and, owing to the intense darkness, the men decided to make a landing. At 9 o'clock p. m., distress rockets were seen by the coast guards on Smiths Island Life Saving Station, and the patrol guards were sent out in answer to the signal. The guards reached the airmen at 11 o'clock, but owing to a low tide could not move the plane, which had landed in the marshes about four miles from shore, and the men were forced to remain in open boats until 4 o'clock the following morning awaiting high tide, when they were taken ashore.

Five of the negroes shot by the police Saturday night in Norfolk when they attempted to rescue two negro soldiers arrested on a larceny charge, are still in the hospital. The others were discharged and turned over to the police, their injuries being of a minor nature. Attending surgeons are confident all will recover. Sergeant White was not seriously injured. Over a score of the participants in the rioting, now out on bond, faced the police court justice this morning.

REPORTS ALL WASTERS

Chief Sherry of Richmond Issues Orders to Watch Closely for Violations of Government Request.

Richmond, Sept. 23.—That the chase for wasters and slackers will be thorough is indicated by the energy with which the fuel administrators and the chief of police are working together. The chief issued orders to the captains of the three districts to have their men on the alert, and to not only take the numbers of all cars running for other than absolutely necessary purposes, but to examine permits and licenses cards. The order issued by Chief Sherry reads:

"Instruct your respective commands, until further notice, to ascertain the name and address of the driver and owner, and the name of each occupant, together with the state license number of all cars operated in this city on Sunday, and require the owner or driver to exhibit his state license certificate and city permit."

"Persons operating without the possession of the state certificate should be placed under arrest and those operating without the city permit should be reported."

"Vehicles operated by physicians, the United States government and the city are exempt from this order. Captains will forward this office on the following day with their morning report a complete list of persons found violating the government's request. This list will be turned over to A. Beirne Blair, fuel administrator.

"Officers will also observe whether persons operating their cars have the city license (red star)."

AMERICAN WASTE

English Working Folk Saving Their Money. Ours Spending Theirs.

There is a feeling that many of those who are receiving exceptionally high wages in this country as the result of the war are not showing wisdom in the matter of saving money.

The jewelry business for example, is making an exceptionally good showing at this time, and it is said to be because of a new set of buyers, who for the first time feel able to indulge in luxuries. This is good for all concerned, if not carried too far. But there are signs of prodigality on the part of people whose income has become exceptional in contrast there is the best authority for believing that the British people are practicing thrift as never before and saving money despite the high cost of living.

The chairman of the National War Savings Association of Great Britain says that there are 10,750,000 holders of British war securities and more than 13,000,000 accounts in savings banks. Thousands of women who earned nothing before the war are now engaged in remunerative employment and are saving their money. Others who formerly received small wages are now making much more and they, too, are practicing thrift. All of which should carry its suggestion to the war workers of this country. Making hay while the sun shines also implies putting it under cover.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The Kaiser is said to be seriously indisposed and has been compelled to cancel all immediate engagements.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg replying to greetings sent to him from a patriotic meeting in Juterbog said: "The first replies from the enemy camp to the Austrian note reveal our enemies' state of mind. In the face of this there can be only one watchword, 'German people be hard.'"

America's answer to Austria-Hungary's recent peace note and the speech of Premier Clemenceau of France on the same subject should, according to the Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin, be posted on billboards and be communicated to the German people by the distribution of millions of pamphlets. "No German man or woman who knows the contents and significance of these declarations," the newspaper declares, "can doubt that peace is attainable only either through our victory or at the price of our utter destruction."

An Austrian regiment at Rovno in the Russian province of Volhynia, is reported in a dispatch received at Basel from Kiev to have refused to go to the battle front in France. The Austrians unfolded the red flag and are said to have been joined by two other regiments.
